ABOUT SEAK'S NON-CLINICAL CAREERS CONFERENCE

SEAK's Non-Clinical Careers Conference is attended by hundreds of physicians each year who are looking to either leave clinical medicine all together or find part time work to supplement their clinical incomes. We show our attendees what is out there through presentations from thought leaders in fields that traditionally hire physicians for non-clinical positions such as pharma, insurance, government, public health, consulting, communications, administration, informatics, finance, etc. We also provide our attendees with mentoring and the opportunity to meet with exhibitors.

SEAK's Non-Clinical Careers Conference is the perfect venue for anyone who is looking to recruit or network with motivated physicians who are looking to try something new.

"The conference was an extremely successful event for us. We have already been in contact with several of the attendees that we met with over the weekend."

"Our recruiting at the SEAK Conference was well worthwhile. We identified 2 very good candidates and 1 other decent one. We will definitely return next year and would like to run 2 tables."

"Our recruiters really enjoyed participating at last year's conference, and we hired 5 physicians from the event and are still in conversations with others from last year."

"The recruiter for our consulting company felt that recruiting at the SEAK Conference was very worthwhile and that we connected with a number of well qualified candidates."

"The conference was excellent! Exactly where we need to be every year to build relationships with physicians who are interested in non-clinical roles. Please invite us back next year."
